

CS4L ... STA ... SSPA ... Who's who in this alphabet soup?

People often ask us who's who in the "court sports ecosphere" in Steamboat – and specifically, what's the relationship between Court Sports 4 Life, the Steamboat Tennis Association, and the Steamboat Springs Pickleball Association?

We're so proud and grateful that the Steamboat Tennis & Pickleball Center (STPC) is home to three separate non-profits, independent of yet interdependent on each other. The bottom line is that each organization addresses specific needs among the tennis and pickleball community.

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS COURT SPORTS ECOSYSTEM: Independent & Interdependent – All Working for You!

Steamboat Tennis Association (steamboattennisassociation.org)

- For the community: scholarships for kids' summer camps, funding for in-school programs, support for the boys and girls high school tennis teams, underwriter and volunteer staff for multiple programs for the under-resourced (SERVES, Boys & Girls Club, just to name a couple)
- For its members: STPC discounts for court rental and programs, tournaments for fun and fundraising, founding member of the Tennis & Pickleball Center Maintenance Endowment Fund

Steamboat Springs Pickleball Association (sspa.club)

- For the community: scholarships for kids' summer camps, funding for in-school programs, introductory and new player sessions, open play in the early days before Sean and Marcy took them over
- For its members: STPC discounts for court rental and programs, advocacy for the sport and its players, social events, fundraising in 2016 to build the current 8 outdoor courts, founding member of the Tennis & Pickleball Center Maintenance Endowment Fund, early leadership and funding for the indoor pickleball center project

Court Sports 4 Life has two related but separate responsibilities –

- Operate the Steamboat Tennis & Pickleball Center, including providing complimentary administrative assistance to our partner non-profits
- Build an indoor Pickleball Center (including design, construction, and fundraising)

Our mission: To enrich the lives of Steamboat Springs, Colorado area residents and visitors of all ages, abilities, and socio-economic groups through pickleball and tennis. We do this by providing premier tennis and pickleball facilities; robust recreational and training programs; and innovative engagement of under-resourced families, adaptive athletes, seniors, and other social cohorts.
